One day Rex was in the park.
He saw other dinosaurs.

"Hi!" Rex said.
"Help!" a dinosaur cried.
"A T. rex!" the other one screamed.
They ran away.

Rex saw another dinosaur. "Hello!"
"Don't eat me!" she said.
She ran away too.

Rex sighed.
"Nobody will be my friend."

Rex kicked a rock.
He sat down.

"Help!" cried a dinosaur.
He stood behind a tree.
"Oh no," Rex said.
"He's afraid of me too!"

"Help!" the dinosaur cried again.
Rex got mad.
"I won't eat you!" he said.

The dinosaur blinked.
Then he said, "Help me!"
"Huh?" Rex said.

"I'm stuck!" the dinosaur said.
"See?"
Rex looked.

The dinosaur's tail had spikes.
One spike was stuck in a tree.

The dinosaur grinned.
"Can you please help me?"

Rex ran over to the dinosaur.
"I can help you," Rex said.

"Thanks!" the dinosaur said.
"My name is Sid."
Rex smiled. "I'm Rex."

Rex looked at Sid's tail.
The spike was stuck deep.

"Cool tail!" Rex said.
"How did it get stuck?"

"I was swinging it," Sid said.
"Why?" Rex asked.

Sid shrugged. "It's fun.
My tail can knock things over!"

"Cool," Rex said.
"I like to roar.
Want to hear?"
Sid nodded.

"ROAR!"
A branch shook and leaves fell.
"Wow!" Sid said.
"Can you help me now?"

"Yes!" Rex said.
He pulled on Sid's tail.
It was still stuck.

Rex pulled harder . . .
And harder . . .

Rex's claws slipped.
He fell backward.
Bam!
"Ouch!" someone said.

Rex looked up. "Sorry!"
A dinosaur rubbed her leg.
She had a beak and wings.
She also had a bag.

The dinosaur frowned.
"Don't try to eat me!"

Rex stood up. "Don't worry.
I'm friendly!
I'm helping Sid.
His tail is stuck."

Rex went back to Sid.
The new dinosaur went too.
"I'm Tor," she said.

"Hello," Rex said.
"I'm Rex. And this is Sid."

Sid nodded. "Hello."
Tor looked at Sid's tail.
"I can help," she said.

Rex and Tor grabbed the tail.
They pulled.

Nothing happened.
They pulled harder.

The spike moved.
"It's working!" Rex said.
"Pull harder!"

"Grr!" Rex and Tor pulled harder.
The spike popped out!
Sid's tail swung fast.

Thwack!
"Uh-oh," Sid said.
His tail got stuck in a different tree!

Dino Buddies 4: New Friends

"Ugh!" Sid said.
"My tail is stuck again!"

Rex and Tor pulled again.
The spike didn't move.

Tor sighed.
"The spike is deeper this time."
Rex nodded.
"We can't pull it out."

Tor looked through her bag.
She found an ax.
"I'll chop down the tree."
"What?" Sid gulped.

"I'll help!" A dinosaur ran over.
She had three horns.

She stood near the tree.
"I can use my horns."
She wiggled one horn.

Slowly . . . the spike slid out!

"Phew!" Sid said. "Thank you!"
The dinosaur smiled. "I'm Sara."

Sid grinned. "I'm Sid.
They are Rex and Tor."

"Let's play tag," Sara said.
"You're it!"
She tagged Rex and then ran.

Rex chased everyone.
"This is fun," Rex thought.
"New friends!"

"It's a nice sunny day," Rex said.
"Let's play something!"

"What can we play?" Sara asked.
"I want to play something fun," Sid said.

"Silly Sid!" Rex said.
"Playing is always fun!"

"Let's race!" Tor said.
Tor ran to a tree.
Then she ran back.

"You're fast, Tor!"

Sid frowned.
"I'm slow," he said.
"Racing is not fun for me."

"We can play hide-and-seek," Sara said.
"I'm not good at hiding," Sid said.

"Hmm." Rex tapped his foot.
"What can we play?"

Suddenly Rex remembered something
"I saw dinos jumping vines yesterday.
Let's try that."

"Oh!" Sara said. "Fun!"
Sid shrugged. "That might be fun."

"Great!" Rex said.
Then he scratched his head.
"Where did Tor go?"

"Tor!" Sara called.
"Where did she go?"

Rex looked around.
"I see Tor," he said.
"She ran to the vines."

The buddies ran to Tor.
Rex picked up a vine.

The vine was tied to a tree.
Rex turned his arm.
The vine swung around and around.

Rex smiled.
"Now someone can jump the vine!"

"Yay!" Sara said.
"Cool!" Tor said.

Sara and Tor jumped.
Bam!
"Oof!" Sara said.
"Ouch!" Tor said.

"One dino at a time," Rex said.
This time Sara went first.
She giggled. "Fun!"

Next, Tor jumped the vine.
"Whee!" Tor laughed.
"Your turn, Sid," Rex said.

"Here I go!" Sid said.
He jumped.
His tail swung.

"Uh-oh!" Sid said.
"The vine is tangled in my spikes!"

Sid hung his head.
"I'm not good at jumping," he said.

"Don't be silly," Sara said.
"You just need practice."
"That's right," Tor said.

Rex nodded. "Try again, Sid!"
Sid sighed. "Okay."

Rex swung the vine again.
This time Sid held his tail.

Sid jumped.
"I did it!" Sid laughed.
He jumped and jumped and jumped.

"You're a great jumper!" Sara said.
Sid stopped.
"Your turn, Rex," he said.

"Who will swing the vine?" Rex asked.

Sid smiled. "I will.
Tie the vine to my tail!"

Rex tied the vine to Sid's tail.
"Start swinging, Sid!" Rex said.

Sid swung his tail.
The vine swung high.
The vine swung fast.

Then—
crack!
The tree fell over!

"Oh no!" Sid said.
He looked at the broken tree.
"Now we can't play."

Tor reached into her bag.
She pulled out seeds.
"I'll plant a new tree!"

Rex laughed.
"That won't help us, Tor!"

Sid looked sad.
Sara picked up the vine.
"Sid, swing with me," she said.

Sara and Sid swung the vine.
Rex and Tor clapped.

Rex jumped the vine.
The vine hit his foot!

"Whoops!" Rex laughed.
Next, Tor jumped.
Sid wanted another turn.

Rex and Sara swung the vine.
Sid held his tail and jumped.
"Whee!" he said.

"This is so much fun!" Sid said.
He forgot about his tail.
He let go.

Sid's tail swung.
"The vine!" Tor said.
"It's tangled again!"

Rex laughed.
"That's okay.
We're having fun!"

Tor saw her friends.
They were playing in the park.

"Look what I found!" Tor said.
She reached into her bag.
She pulled out something round.

"That's an egg!" Sara said.
"How did you get it?"

Tor shrugged.
"I saw some eggs.
I guess nobody wanted them."

Sara shook her head.
"We must return that egg.
Where did you find it?"

Tor shrugged.
"I forget."

"Where did you go today?" Sara asked.
"Lots of places," Tor said.

"Let's follow Tor's footprints," Rex said.
"They'll lead us to the eggs."

Sid led the way.
He swung his tail as he walked.

Sid's tail hit a rock.
Bonk!
The rock rolled . . . into Tor!

"Oh no!" Tor cried.
"My egg!"

The egg flew through the air.
"Whoops!" Sid said.

Rex leaped.
He held out his arms.
He caught the egg!

"Whew!" Sara and Tor said.

Now Sara led the way.
Tor played with the egg.
"Be careful, Tor," Sara said.

The buddies went deep into the woods.

Sara stopped.
"I see lots of footprints.
Which way should we go?"
Tor scratched her head.

Rex saw some bugs.
"Cool!" he said.
Rex followed the bugs.

Sid followed Rex.
"Where are those bugs going?"
"Let's find out," Rex said.

"Oh!" Tor said.
"I remember where I found the egg!"
"Great!" Sara said.

"But . . . " She looked around.
"Where are Rex and Sid?"

Just then a dark shadow appeared.
Sara and Tor looked up.
Gulp!

Sara and Tor ran fast.
Something big was chasing them!

Rex and Sid watched the bugs.
The bugs went into a small hole.
"Bye, bugs," Sid said.
"Bugs are cool," Rex said.

Rex looked around.
"Where are Sara and Tor?"

Crack!
A tree branch snapped.
Something big was coming.
Sid gulped.

Rex opened his jaws wide. "Roar!"
Branches and leaves shook.
But something was still coming.

Rex roared again.
Crunch! Crash!
Something was coming!

It was Tor and Sara!
"Whew!" Tor said.
"We found you!" Sara said.

"Something was chasing us," Tor said.

Sara smiled.
"But you scared it away, Rex!"

Just then Rex pointed. "Look!"
Everyone looked down.

"Eggs!" Sid said.
"It's a nest," Sara said.
Tor grinned. "That's where I got this egg!"

"There," Tor said.
She put the egg in the nest.
Suddenly the dark shadow appeared.
"Uh-oh," Sid said.

The buddies looked up.

A big dino smiled down at them.
"I'm sorry I scared you," she said.
"I just wanted my egg back."

Tor sighed.
"I'm sorry I took your egg."

"It's okay," the big dino said.
"Thank you for bringing it back."

"When will your eggs hatch?" Sara asked.

"They will hatch soon," the big dino said.
"You can come back and visit."

"Yay!" Sara said.
"I love baby dinos!"

The buddies walked back to the park.
"You have the best roar, Rex," Sid said.
Tor and Sara nodded.

"Let's hear it again," Tor said.
"Okay," Rex said.
"Roar!"
The whole forest shook.

In the nest the eggs shook too!

"I love rain!" Rex said.
"It feels cool!"

Rex danced in the rain.
Then he found a big puddle.

Splash!
Rex stomped.
Water went everywhere!

Sara and Sid came over.
"Oh, puddles!" Sara said.
Stomp!

Water splashed on Sid.
"Ha-ha!" Sid laughed.

Sid swung his tail into a mud pit.
Sploosh!
Mud splashed on Rex and Sara.

"Ha-ha!" Rex and Sara laughed.
Tor came along.

"Tor, play with us!" Sid said.
Tor held her bag. "No way."
"It's fun," Sara said.

Tor shook her head.
"I don't want to get muddy."
Just then lightning struck.
Crack!
The rain fell harder.

Tor looked around.
She saw a cave.
"Quick!" Tor said.
"Let's go in that cave!"

The buddies ran into the cave.
"Whoa!" Rex said.

Dino Buddies 14: The Cave

Rex looked around.
The buddies were in a cave.
He saw some pits.

Rex looked into one pit.
"Paint!" he said.
"I see red paint!"

Tor looked into another pit.
"I see green paint," she said.

"Wow," Sara said.
"All the pits have different colors!"

"This cave is strange," Sid said.
"Let's paint!" Sara said.

Sara got blue paint.
She painted some flowers on the wall.

Tor made a painting of her bag.
"It looks great!" she said.

Rex painted a big T. rex.
It had sharp teeth.
"Wow!" Sara said.

"Let me see!" Sid said.
He ran over to Rex and Sara.
His tail swung.

"Sid!" Rex cried.
"Be careful near that pit!"

Splash!
Paint went everywhere!
"Oops!" Sid said.

"Sid!" Tor cried.
"You ruined our paintings!"

Sid hung his head.
"Sorry," he said.

Sara smiled and patted Sid.
"Don't worry.
My painting looks better now."

"Really?" Sid asked.
"Yep!" Sara said.

Tor frowned.
My
painting looks bad now.
And it
the best one!"

"Our paintings were good too," Rex said.
"Mine was better!" Tor said. "Much better!"

Finally, Rex got mad.
He took a deep, deep breath.
"Roar!"

The cave shook.
Paint sprayed on Sid and Tor.
"Grr!" Tor threw paint.
It missed Rex.
"Look out, Sid!" Sara said.

Sid swung his tail.
Splat!
"Sid!" Rex yelled.
"You got paint on me!"
Rex, Sid, and Tor all threw paint.
Sara held up her arms.
"Everybody, stop!"

Dino Buddies 16: The Big Painting

Some paint hit Sara.
Splat!
She wiped her face.
Then . . .

Sara scooped up paint.
She threw the paint at her friends.

"Ha-ha!" Rex said.
"You missed me!"

Tor laughed. "But you got me!"
Sid laughed. "Try to get me!"

Everyone flung paint at Sid.
Sid ducked and dived.
"This is so much fun!" Rex said.

Soon everyone was tired.
"Let's make a painting together," Sara said.
"Great idea," Tor said.

The buddies painted.
A big painting filled one wall.

"Hey!" Sid grinned.
"It's us."
"Our painting looks great!" Sara said.

"But we are a mess," Tor said.
"How will we get clean?"

Rex heard raindrops outside the cave.
He smiled.

"Let's go play outside," Rex said.
"The rain will wash away the paint!"

"Yum," Sid said.
"I love to eat!"

The buddies were having a picnic.
They sat near the stream.

Tor frowned.
"I wish we had more food."

"Who wants to play tic-tac-toe?" Sid asked.
"Me!" Tor said.
They started to play.

Sara wiped her brow.
"Whew!" she said.
"It's hot today."

Rex dipped a toe in the stream.
"Let's go swimming," he said.

"Good idea," Sara said.
"Tor, Sid!" Rex called.
"Do you want to swim with us?"

"No, thanks," Tor said.
"We're playing tic-tac-toe."
She made an
on the board.

Sid looked at the board.
He made an
O .
"Your turn, Tor," he said.

Rex jumped in the water.
"Here I come!" Sara said.

Sara ran and jumped.
Splash!

Dino Buddies 18: Swimming

"Sara!" Tor cried.
"Our tic-tac-toe game!"

"Sorry!" Sara said.
"I didn't mean to splash your game."
Tor sighed. "That's okay."

"I got wet too," Sid said.
"But the water feels good.
It's hot today!"

Sid got up.
Splash!
Sid jumped into the stream.

"I'm going to swim too!" Tor said.
Splash!
Tor jumped in.

The buddies splashed and played.
Rex did a flip.

Sid splashed with his tail.
Sara held her breath under water.

Tor saw a shiny rock.
"Ooh!" She reached for it.

Suddenly a fish swam by.
"A fish!" Tor dived after it.

The fish moved fast.
Tor chased it.
But now the stream moved fast too.

Tor tried to stop.
But the stream was pulling her away!
Tor gulped. "Help!"

"Tor needs help!" Rex cried.
He jumped out of the stream.

Sid and Sara followed Rex.
"Help!" Tor cried.

The buddies ran along the stream.
Sara tried to grab Tor.
But Tor zipped past.

"I see a log," Rex said.
The log lay across the stream.
"Let's go!" Sid said.

The buddies ran past Tor.
They ran to the log.
Then they climbed on.

"Here comes Tor!" Sara said.
"I'll get her," Sid said.

Sid let his tail hang down.
"Grab my tail, Tor!"

Water splashed in Tor's eyes.
She couldn't see.

Tor hit Sid's tail.
Whap!
"Ouch!" Tor cried.
The stream pulled her away.

Rex shook his head. "This is bad."
"Come on," Sara said.
"We can still—"
Crack!

The log broke.
It fell in the stream.
And so did the buddies!

The stream moved fast!
Rex flapped his arms.
He swam toward the log.

Sara and Sid were near Rex.
"Help!" Sara cried.

Rex grabbed the log.
"Take my hand," Rex said.

Rex pulled Sara to the log.
Sid swam to the log.

"Whew!" Sid said.
"Now we can just float."

Rex gulped.
"We can't float for long," he said.
"I see a waterfall!"

"Ahh!" Sara and Sid cried.
The buddies went over the waterfall.
But it wasn't very big.

"Whee!" Sara said.
Splash!
"That was fun!" Sid said.

The stream was slow now.
Rex grinned. "We're safe.
But where's Tor?"

"Over here!" Tor said.
Rex looked.

Tor sat on the grass.
A pile of fish sat next to her.
Tor smiled. "Let's have another picnic!"

Dino Buddies 21: Bored

"I'm bored," Sid said.
Sara nodded. "There's nothing to do."

Tor found a ball in her bag.
"Let's play catch," she said.
"That sounds fun," Rex said.

Just then a rat ran by.
It slipped under a leaf.

"Look!" Sara said.
A hole was beneath the leaf.
The rat dived in.

Sara peeked into the hole.
The rat got mad.
Squeak!
Squeak!

Sara jumped back.
"The rat lives in there," Rex said.
"Its home is like a tiny fort."

Sara smiled.
"Let's build our own fort!" she said.

"That will be fun!" Sid said.
Rex and Tor got some big sticks.
Sara and Sid worked on the fort.

"We need more sticks!" Sara said.
Rex carried lots of sticks.

"You're strong, Rex!"

Rex grinned.
Roar!
Crash!
The fort fell over.

"Rex!" Sara said.
"Your roar ruined the fort!"

Rex grinned. "Whoops!"
The buddies picked up the sticks.

Sid started stacking sticks.
Tor put some sticks together.
"I'm making the roof," she said.

Sid looked at the roof.
"It's too low, Tor."

Tor frowned. "It looks fine to me!"
"Sid is right," Sara said.
"That roof is too low."

Tor looked at Rex.
"What do you think?"

Rex bit his lip. "Um . . .
It might be too low."

"Hmph!" Tor said.
"Make the fort without me!"
Tor stomped off.

"Wait!" Sid said.
He turned to follow Tor.
His tail hit the fort.

Crash!
The fort fell apart again!
Rex and Sara groaned.
Sid hung his head.

Tor looked back at the mess.
Suddenly she laughed.
"Let's build the fort again!"

Dino Buddies 23: The Fort

"This fort will be great," Rex said.
He placed a big stick on the fort.

Tor and Sid made the roof.
"This looks good," Sid said.

Soon the fort was done.
"Let's get in!" Sara said.

Sara crawled into the fort.
"It's not very big in here," she said.

"Make room for me," Sid said.
"I'm coming in."

"I can't move," Sara said.
"The fort is too small!"

"Oh well," Tor said.
"We can just take turns."

"That's no fun," Rex said.
"Let's make the fort bigger."

The buddies found more sticks.
They made the fort bigger.

The buddies crawled in.

Squeak! Squeak!
Rex saw a hole.
"Oh no," he said.

Dino Buddies 24: Pow!

"Ugh!" Sid said.
"The rat's hole!
We built our fort over it."

听启

Squeak!
Squeak!
Rex held his ears.
"The rat is loud!"

Tor took out her ball.
She covered the hole with it.

"Good!" Sara said.
"Now we can't hear the rat!"

Pow!
The rat hit the ball.
Sara caught it.
Squeak!
Squeak!
Squeak!

"Catch, Tor!" Sara threw the ball.
Tor caught it.
She covered the hole again.

Pow!
The ball flew again.
This time Rex caught it.

SQUEAK!
SQUEAK!
Tor groaned.
"This rat is too noisy!"

"Is the rat mad?" Sid asked.
"I think so!" Sara said.
"Hmm." Rex peeked in the hole.

Rex gasped.
The rat was smiling!
Rex laughed. "The rat just wants to play!"

Rex put the ball over the hole.
Pow!

Sid was walking.
He walked through a field.
He ate some grass.

Sid walked past some trees.
He ate some leaves.

Then Sid found a berry patch.
The berries were big and purple.

"Mmm!" Sid said.
"Those berries look sweet!"

Sid ate a berry.
"Yum!" he said.
Sid ate more berries.

Sid ate and ate.
Suddenly he heard his friends.
"Sid!"
"Sid, where are you?"

"Uh-oh," Sid thought.
"My friends will want berries too.
They will eat all of them!"

Sara, Tor, and Rex were walking.
"Maybe Sid went this way," Rex said.

Tor and Sara followed Rex.
They found a field.
Tor gasped. "Look!"

Sid lay on the ground.
He moaned.
Purple spots covered him.

"Poor Sid," Sara said.
"He's sick!"

Sid moaned.
"Ugh. I feel sick."

Sara looked at Sid.
"You have purple spots.
Where are they from?"

"I don't know," Sid said.
"Did you eat anything?" Rex asked.
"Um . . . no," Sid said.
He held his belly.

Rex looked at Tor and Sara.
"How can we help Sid?" he asked.

"I need to eat flowers," Sid said.
"They will make me better."

"I'll get flowers for you, buddy," Rex said.
Rex ran off.

"I'm thirsty," Sid moaned.
"I'll get water for you!" Tor said.
She flew off.

Sid shook.
"Brr!" he said.
"I'm so cold."

"I can help," Sara said.
"I'll get big leaves.
They'll keep you warm."

Sara ran off.
Sid was all alone.

Sid opened his eyes.
He looked around.
He grinned. "Ha-ha!"

Rex looked for flowers.
He found a sunny hill.
Flowers were everywhere.

Rex picked a bunch of flowers.
"These will help Sid," he said.

Tor flew around.
She spotted a pond below.
"Water for Sid!" Tor said.

Tor landed near the pond.
"Hmm," she said.
"How will I carry the water?"

Tor dug through her bag.
She found a bucket.
Tor grinned. "Perfect!"

Sara found plants.
They had big, wide leaves.

"These leaves are big," Sara said.
"Sid can use them as blankets."

Sara picked leaves.
She went back to the field.

Sara saw Rex and Tor.
"I have leaves," Sara said.

"I have flowers," Rex said.
Tor held up the bucket.
"I have water."

The buddies went to find Sid.
Sara gasped.
"Sid's gone!"

"Sid!" Rex called.
"Where are you?"

Rex heard loud chomping.
"Someone is over there," Rex said.
He pointed toward some trees.

The buddies walked past the trees.
The chomping grew louder.

The buddies found a berry patch.
Sara smiled. "Those berries look sweet!"

Tor frowned.
"I wish there were more berries.
Somebody ate most of them."

Chomp! Chomp! Chomp!
Tor peeked around a bush.
She saw Sid.

"Sid!" Tor cried.
"You're eating berries!"

Sid stopped eating.
"Uh-oh," he said.

"You're not sick!" Rex said.
"You tricked us!" Tor said.

Sid gulped. "I'm sorry.
Do you want berries too?"
"Yes!" Rex, Sara, and Tor said.

The four buddies ate berries.
Sid ate too many.
Later he felt sick.
But nobody believed him.

Dino Buddies 29: The Rock Tower

"I hope this doesn't fall," Rex said.

He was making a rock tower.
It was getting tall.

Sara ran over.
"Hey, Rex!"

Rex was surprised.
His arm bumped the tower.
The rocks fell.

Rex sighed.
"Sorry, Rex," Sara said.
"Do you want to play a game?"

"No, thanks," Rex said.
"I'm busy."
He stacked the rocks again.

Sara walked around.
"I'm bored," she said.

Sara picked up two seed pods.
She shook them.
Rattle, rattle, rattle.

"Ooh!" Sara smiled.
"I like that sound!"

Sara shook the seed pods again.
Rattle, rattle, rattle.

Rex groaned.
"I can't work on my tower," he thought.
"There's too much noise!"

Rattle, rattle, rattle.
Rex spun around. "Sara, stop!"
The tower fell over.

Dino Buddies 30: Music

Sara looked at Rex.

She looked at the rocks.
"I'm sorry your tower fell," she said.

Rex sighed.
"It's okay."
He stacked the rocks again.

Sara walked through the woods.
She shook her seed pods.

"What do you have, Sara?" Tor asked.
"Seed pods," Sara said.
Rattle, rattle, rattle.

"Nice music," Tor said.
"I have an idea."

Tor dug through her bag.
She found a flute.
Tweet!

Sara and Tor played music.
Rattle, rattle, tweet!
Rattle, rattle, tweet!

Sid walked over.
He swung his tail to the beat.

Sid slapped the ground.
He used his tail.
Whap . . . whap . . . whap!

"That sounds good, Sid," Sara said.
"We can be a band," Tor said.

"Be quiet!"

Dino Buddies 31 : Different Sounds

The mice dived into their hole.

"They don't like our music," Tor said.

Sara nodded. "Let's go somewhere else."
Sara, Sid, and Tor walked around.

Sara shook her seed pods.
Tor played her flute.
And Sid slapped his tail.

Sid slapped a big log.
Ba-doom! Ba-doom!
The log made a hollow sound.

"Cool sound!" Sara said.
Rattle, rattle, tweet, ba-doom!

They ran away.

Sid felt bad about scaring them.
"Sorry!" he yelled.
But the lizards were gone.

The buddies walked some more.
Soon they found Rex.

Rex was still making his tower.
"Hi, Rex," Sid said.
"We're making music."

Sid swung his tail at things.
He made different sounds.

Sid hit rocks, trees, and bushes.
And then . . .
Wham!
He hit Rex's tower.
Crash!

Dino Buddies 32: Something Is Missing

Sid felt bad.

"Sorry about your tower, Rex," he said.

Rex sighed. "It's okay."
He stacked rocks again.

Tor stopped playing.
"Our band is missing something," she said.

"What?" Sara asked.
"I don't know," Tor said.
"But we need something."

Sara shrugged. "I think we sound great."
She shook her seed pods.

Just then Rex made a soft roar.
"I finished my tower!"

"That's it!" Tor cried.
"Huh?" Rex was confused.

"Our band is missing you, Rex," Tor said.
"You can roar!"
Rex smiled. "Okay!"

The buddies played music together.
Rex roared as Sara shook her seed pods.

Tor played her flute.
Sid slapped his tail.
But he wasn't careful.

Wham!
Rex's tall tower fell down.
Sid grinned. "Oops."
Everyone laughed—even Rex.

Dino Buddies 33: Playing Tag

"Try to catch me!" Sara said.
The buddies were playing tag.

"Here I come!" Rex said.
He stomped toward Sara.

Sara ran fast.
"Oof!"
She tripped over a dead branch.

"Are you okay?" Tor asked.
Sara got up.
"I'm fine!" she said.

Rex tagged Sara.
"You're it!" he said.
"Hmph!" Sara said.

Sara saw Sid nearby.
She ran toward him.
Sid spun around.

Sid stepped on thorns.
"Ouch!" Sid cried.
"Poor Sid," Sara said.

Sara tried to help Sid.
But there were lots of thorns.
"Ouch, ouch, ouch!" Sid cried.

"We'll help," Rex and Tor said.
Rex ran.
Tor flew.

Rex didn't see a nut pile.
He slipped.
Bam!
He hit the ground.

"Ugh!" Suddenly Tor shouted.
She was stuck in vines!

Dino Buddies 34: Cleaning Up

Tor flapped and kicked.

听启

She got free of the vines.

Everyone pulled thorns from Sid's foot.
"Thanks," Sid said.

Sara looked around.
"This spot is a mess," she said.
"Let's clean it up."

"Good idea." Tor dug through her bag.
She found a duster.

Everyone laughed.
"That duster won't help us," Sara said.

Sid picked up branches.
"Ouch!" Sara said.
"How can we cut these thorns?"

Tor dug through her bag again.
She handed Sara a saw.
"Perfect!" Sara said.

Sara cut the thorns.
Then Tor cut the vines.

Rex picked up the nuts.
He threw them behind some bushes.

"Our spot looks clean now," Tor said.
"I'm thirsty."
Everyone went to the stream.

Soon they came back.
There was a new nut pile!

Dino Buddies 35: Nuts!

"I got rid of all the nuts," Rex said.
"Now there's a new pile!"

Tor put down her bag.

听启

"Let's clean them up again," she said.

The buddies picked up the nuts.
They threw them behind a rock.

Tor went to get her bag.
She gasped. "My bag is gone!"

"Where did you leave it?" Sara asked.

Tor scratched her head.
"I thought I left it here," she said.

The buddies looked for Tor's bag.
Sid looked under a log.
Rex looked behind a bush.

"The stream!" Sara said.
"Maybe you left your bag there."

Everyone went to the stream.
The bag wasn't there.

They returned to their spot.
"Oh! There's my bag," Tor said.
She picked it up.

"Why is it so heavy?" Tor asked.
She looked inside.
"Nuts!"

Dino Buddies 36: The Squirrel

Tor dumped her bag.
Nuts spilled everywhere.

Rex groaned. "Another mess!"
Tor grinned. "Sorry."

The buddies picked up the nuts.
Sid threw some.

"Stop!" a squirrel yelled.
She was in a tree.
She peeked out from a hole.

The squirrel was mad.
"I'm collecting those nuts!"

"What?" Rex said.
"I was making a nut pile," the squirrel said.
"I carried some nuts up here."

The squirrel frowned.
"My pile got messed up.
So I hid nuts in that."
She pointed to Tor's bag.

"We were cleaning," Sara said.
"We're sorry."

"We can help you now," Tor said.
The buddies collected nuts.
Tor put them in her bag.

Tor flew up to the squirrel.
"Here," Tor said.
The squirrel smiled. "Thanks!"

Now the spot was clean.
Rex roared. "Let's play!"

Dino Buddies 37: The Waterfall

Sara found some berries and seeds.
"We can have a picnic," she said.

"Let's sit by the waterfall," Rex said.
Tor frowned. "Okay," she said.
"But I don't want to get wet."

The buddies went to the waterfall.
The water crashed down.
It was very loud.

听启

"Sara, can I have some berries?" Sid asked.
"What?" Sara said. "I can't hear you!"

"Can I have some berries?" Sid yelled.
Sara handed him berries. "Here you go."
"What?" Sid yelled.

The waterfall moved faster.
Water splashed everywhere.

"Ugh!" Tor said. "I got wet again!"
"We can move," Rex said.

The buddies moved away.
More water splashed.

Tor jumped up.
"Splashed again!" she said.

The buddies moved even farther.
Tor smiled. "This is much better!"

Suddenly—
crack!
Lightning struck.
Rain poured down.

Dino Buddies 38: Caves

"Oh no!" Tor cried.
"I'm getting soaked!"

Rain poured down on the buddies.
"Where will we go?" Rex said.

Rex looked around.
"I see a cave!" he said.
The buddies ran to the cave.

"Whew!" Sara said.
"It's dry in here."

听启

Suddenly a big dino yelled.
"This is my cave!"

"We're sorry!" Sara said.
The buddies ran back outside.

The buddies went in other caves.
But none of them were empty.

The buddies stood outside.
"This is awful!" Tor cried.
"Where can we go?"

"I see a big rock!" Rex said.
"Let's hide there."

The buddies sat under the rock.
"Yay!" Tor said.
"The rain can't hit us here."

Just then the wind changed.
Rain splashed on the buddies!

Dino Buddies 39: Muddy

Rain fell hard.
The buddies were getting soaked.

Rex looked down at the river.
The river was moving fast.

"I see a tree," Rex said.
"Let's hide under it.
It has wide leaves."
"Good idea!" Tor said.

The buddies went down the hill.
The hill was steep and muddy.

The buddies slipped in the mud.
"Ugh!" Sid said.

听启

"Eww!" Rex frowned.
"Mud went in my mouth!"
"Yuck!" Sara wiped mud off her face.

Tor sighed. "Now we're wet—and muddy!"
The rain poured down harder.

The rain washed the mud off.
"Yay!" Sara said.

The buddies sat under the tree.
"It's nice under here," Sara said.
Tor smiled. "It's dry!"

"Shh!" Rex said suddenly.
"I hear someone."

Everyone listened.
A voice cried, "Help!"

Dino Buddies 40: A Hero

"Someone needs help!" Rex said.
The buddies looked.

A log floated by fast.
A small rat clung to it.
"Help!" the rat yelled.

"We have to help the rat," Sid said.
"But I can't run fast."

Tor felt a raindrop on her face.
"Ugh," she said.

"I can run fast!" Rex said.
He ran after the rat.

But the water moved fast too.
The rat floated away.
"Poor rat!" Rex said.

听启

Swoosh!
Suddenly Tor flew by.
"Go, Tor!" Sara said.

Tor flew over the rat.
She saved him!

A big rat ran over.
He held a really big leaf.
He hugged the small rat.

The big rat looked at Tor.
"You're a hero!" he said.
"A very wet hero," Tor said.

The rat gave Tor his leaf.
Tor smiled. "Thanks!"

Dino Buddies 41: Hide-and-Seek

"Let's play a game," Rex said.
The buddies were in the forest.

"What should we play?" Sara asked.
"I want to play hide-and-seek," Tor said.

Sid groaned.
"No way!
I'm bad at hide-and-seek!"

"Oh, Sid," Rex said.
"Let's play.
Then you'll get better at it."

Sid frowned.
He kicked a rock.
"Okay," he said.

Rex counted.
"One, two, three . . ."
Tor, Sara, and Sid ran off.

听启

Sid saw a hollow log.
He tried to crawl into it.
But Sid was much too big.

Sid saw a big rock.
He ducked behind it.

"Psst, Sid," Sara said.
"I see your tail!"

"Ugh!" Sid said.
"This is why I hate hide-and-seek.
I'm bad at it!"

Suddenly Rex shouted.
"Ready or not, here I come!"

Dino Buddies 42: Flowers

"Rex is coming!" Sid said.
He looked around.
"Where will I hide?"

Sid ran up a hill.
He looked down the other side.
He saw flowers.

A breeze blew.
Sid sniffed. "Mmm.
The flowers smell sweet!"

Rex ran through the forest.
"Sid stinks at hide-and-seek," he thought.
"I'll find him soon!"

Rex looked all over.
But he couldn't find Sid.
He couldn't find Sara or Tor.

Tor sat up in a tree.
She watched Rex.

听启

Tor giggled softly.
"Rex won't find me here!" she thought.

Sara sat behind a big rock.
Rex was close.
"Oh no," Sara thought.
"I need a new hiding spot!"

Sid munched flowers.
"Yum!" he said.
"I love flowers!"

Snap!
A branch broke nearby.

Sid stopped eating.
"Uh-oh," he said.
"Rex is coming!"

Dino Buddies 43: A Perfect Hiding Spot

Sid hid behind a bush.
"I hope Rex doesn't find me," he thought.

Sid heard footsteps.
Then they stopped.

Everything was quiet.
Then . . .
Munch, munch, munch.

"Is Rex eating flowers?" Sid thought.
He peeked.
"Sara!" Sid said.

Sara grinned.
"These flowers are yummy!" she said.
"Where's Rex?" Sid asked.

Sara shrugged.
"Rex almost found me," she said.

听启

"So I ran here.
I found these flowers."

Sid laughed.
He and Sara ate flowers.

"This is a new place," Sid said.
"We were never here before."

Sara nodded.
"Rex won't come here.
It's a perfect hiding spot!"

Sid and Sara walked and ate.
Suddenly Sid bumped into a tree.

Buzz! Buzz!
"Oh no!" Sara said.
"A beehive! Run!"
